*CALL TO WORSHIP (Let us stand as we are able)

Liturgist

Liturgist: Let us stand as we are able as we call one another to worship the living God!

Today we celebrate how God speaks through human witness and testimonies.

People: The Psalmist calls out: "Come and hear, all you who fear God. Come, let me tell you what he has done for me." (Psalm 66:16)

Liturgist: In John's Gospel we read: "Leaving her water jar, the woman went back to the town and said to the people, Come, see a man who told me everything I ever did. Could this be the Christ? (John 4:28-29)

People: "Many Samaritans from that town believed in Jesus because of the woman's testimony. And because of Jesus' words many more became believers. They said to the woman, "We no longer believe just because of what you said; now we have heard for ourselves, and we know this man really is the Savior of the world. (John 4:39-42)

Liturgist: In Mark's Gospel Jesus said to a man: "Go home to your family, and tell them everything the Lord has done for you and how merciful he has been."

People: So we listen to others as they share their testimonies, and we are to tell our neighbors and our families of what God has done for us! With joy we now sing, for we Love to Tell the Story!

Living God, when we join the church, we promise to give you our whole lives. We promise to support your church through our prayers, our attendance, our service, our gifts, and our witness. For some of us, O Lord, it is our witness that is most difficult. Some of us would rather give a fortune than to tell someone about you. Some of us would rather pray for forty days than go witnessing for forty minutes. Some of us think we have nothing to say, no words, no wisdom to offer. But we each have a story, a testimony, an account of how your love found us and redeemed us when we needed it most. Give us the courage to speak truth in love to one another, to tell people what you have done for us and what you are doing for us. As Jesus told the man in Mark 5, "Go home and tell your
